NO. 1213 F STREET NORTHWEST.
Friends of democracy and citizens who desire the election of the democratic candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the republic.—We have entered on the last month of the campaign. Fermit the undersigned to remind you, each and all, that while many have generously responded in sup ort of the democratic cause, there are multitudes who undoubtedly desire its triumph and would hall such triumph as a boon to all classes of the people, but who have as yet rendered no sid toward its accomplishment. It is believed that a little reflection will convince all such persons that a presidential campaign cannot be carried on without involving a legitimate and heavy burden of expense and that it is only just that this burden should be borne, not by a single class, but by all the friends and well-wishers of our cause.

Contributions will be received by the treasurer, J. Harrison Johns n, at the rooms of the advisory committee, No. 1213 F st. a.w., second floor, or remittances may be made to him by mail, if preferred, addressed to Lock Box 228.

Receipts will be promptly furnished and will be followed with acknowledgments of the democratic national committee from New York city.

Rainy Weather for Elections The weather map shows a large area of democratic weather prevailing, according to the democratic notion that rain is helpful to that party. The prospects indicate an extension of the area tomorrow. It is raining now as far west as the Missouri river and from the great lakes to the gulf. The rainy area comprises all of the states where the result is said to be doubtful. The weather bureau forecast for tomorrow predicts rain also in New England, New York, lew Jersey and Pennsylvania. Bright and early this morning came Mr.

A special wire connects this office with the main office of the Western Union Telegraph Company and gives communication direct between the Executive Mansion and any city.

As special wires also run into nearly all of the party headquarters the President can stand by the instrument and, with Mr. Montgomery's aid, carry on a conversation with his lieuten-

In the celebrated Michigan election cas already decided by the court the chief justice read at great length the formal written opinion of the court that the district mode of choosing electors was not obnoxious to the Constitution but conformed to its original purpose.

WHERE THE CHANCES LIE.

Public Sentiment Drifting Slightly Toward secial Dispatch to The Evening Star. NEW YORK, Nov. 7 .- The closing day of the campaign finds public sentiment drifting slightly toward the republicars. A study of the claims made by representative men of both parties shows that the chances seem to be in favor of republican success. Unless there is some unexplained landslide in the west the republicans can win by carrying one of the states ad-mittedly close, while the democrats to win must carry all. There are five of those states: New York, Indiana, Delaware, Connecticut and West Virginia. To put Delaware and West Virginia doubtful is unusual, but there is no doubt that republican chances of success there are fully as good as democratic. This is especially true of Delaware.

Clarkson, Mauley and Harrity give their estimates and it is apparent from a study of these that unless the democrats get New York, Indiana and at least one of the other three they cannot win, while New York, or Indiana, or the
